One Smart Cookie

Stories of Resilience and Reinvention
With A Few Bad Ideas Along The Way

Karen's passion for baking began at just six years old, when an Easy-Bake Oven sparked her culinary independence. Decades later, she set out to create a cookie that perfectly paired with coffee, and her dream became a reality, with millions of cookies sold through Starbucks across the East Coast.

But that was only the beginning.

Join Karen for a roller coaster of emotion, resilience, reinvention, and plenty of humor as she shares how she got there...and what happened next.

FROM DISNEY WORLD TO STARBUCKS TO THE FOOD NETWORK...

Karen's career has been anything but ordinary.
